

CUT

FOLD

- Scientific name: Anguilla rostrata
- Common name: English: American Eel
Español: Anguila de Río
- Habitat/range: Live in freshwater streams but spawn at sea. Worldwide except Antarctica.
- Diet: Crustaceans, worms, fish and frogs.
- Fun fact: American Eels can breathe through their skins, and can live out of the water for up to 3 hours!

CUT

CUT

FOLD

- Scientific name: Epibolocera sinuatifrons
- Common name: English: Freshwater Crab
Español: Buruquena
- Habitat/range: Occupies pools in freshwater streams and can move on land at night. Central/South America, Caribbean islands.
- Diet: Scavenger/bottom feeder.
- Fun fact: Freshwater crabs can breathe out of water as long as they remain moist!

CUT

FOLD

Scientific name: Agonostomus monticola

Common name: English: Mountain Mullet
Español: Dajao, Lisa de Río

Habitat/range: Upper streams and rivers in mountainous areas. Greater/Lesser Antilles Islands.

Diet: Mollusks, small shrimp, spiders and insects.

Fun fact: Although when fully-grown they weigh only 4 oz., mullets are fished for sport.

CUT

FOLD

Scientific name: Macrobrachium carcinus

Common name: English: Big-clawed River Shrimp
Español: Camarón de Río, Langostino

Habitat/range: Freshwater pools in rivers and streams. Greater/Lesser Antilles islands.

Diet: Omniverous; algae aquatic insects, mollusks, and other.

Fun fact: Important food source for River crabs, fish and wading birds!